The screenshot shows the 'Review workflow' interface. At the top, there is a title 'Review workflow' and a brief description: 'Here you can give your vote about the current page content, if you are part of a review workflow. Furthermore you can change settings and view the recent history of the running review workflow.' Below this is the 'Review process' section, which includes input fields for 'Start date' (01/29/19), 'End date' (02/05/19), and a 'Type' dropdown menu set to 'Flagging'. There are also icons for adding, deleting, and refreshing. Below the settings is a table with columns: 'Status', 'Reviewer', 'Comment', 'Delegated to', and 'Actions'. The table contains one entry with status '1', reviewer 'Testuser', and comment 'Testuser: My comment'. At the bottom, there are 'Options' with three checked checkboxes: 'Reviewer can edit the page', 'Follow the reviewer order', and 'Restart review if a reviewer reject it'. There is also a 'Template' dropdown set to 'Test' and a 'Load' button. A dropdown menu is open from the 'Load' button, showing options: 'Save for myself', 'Save for everybody', and 'Delete'. There are also 'Save' and 'Delete' buttons at the bottom left.

Review process for some pages and some organization is a lot of times very similar, with same options and same list of reviewers. In order to minimize the effort when starting a review, templates are introduced. Template controls are located at the bottom of review settings.

Saving a template

Once the list of reviewers is entered and other options set, enter the name for the template in the input field and click on the arrow in the "Load" button. Several options will be offered:

- Save for me - the template will be shown only to the user who saves it
- Save for everybody - the template will be shown to everybody

Pick the desired option and the template will be saved

Applying a template

Once there are templates saved, users can choose from the list of templates, and, after clicking "Load" button, all the options and the list of reviewers will be set as saved in the template.
