About the blog

Essentially, a blog is a list of comments, questions, or feedback from different users. The blog is often created chronologically, however, in the event of a public post or a blog conversation can also allow the contributors are better connected, recommended, listed with related articles or placed on a personal website.

The extension BlueSpiceBlogging is part of BlueSpiceWiki. The communication module of BlueSpice is added to the blog blog. There are other types of extended social entities, such as comment, discussion topic, attachment, or trending.

Contributions from all these types can be consolidated and displayed chronologically with BlueSpiceWiki in a timeline and filtered and sorted as needed.

The blog function is ready to use on the special page Special:Blog. This page is linked directly from the main navigation in every new wiki installation. So you can start using the blog right away. It is also possible to include the blog functionality on any wiki page. Let's get right to it.

Adding the blog to a page

If you want to include a new blog on another page of your wiki, for example your homepage, you need to insert the necessary codeblock in the source code of your page.
