About the blog

Essentially, a blog is a list of comments, questions, or feedback from different users. The blog is often created chronologically, however, in the event of a public post, or blog conversation, can also allow the contributors are better connected, recommended, listed with related articles or placed on a personal website.

The extension BlueSpiceWikiBlog is part of BlueSpiceWiki. The communication module of BlueSpice is, in addition to the main blog, there are other types of so-called social articles, such as comment, discussion topic, attachment, or a meeting.

Contributions from all these types can be consolidated and displayed chronologically with BlueSpiceWiki in a timeline and then used as a record.

This blog function is ready to use on the special page Special:Blog. This page is linked directly from the main navigation in every view with conditions. So you can start using the blog right away. It is also possible to include the blog horizontally on any web page. Let's get right to it.

Adding the blog to a page

If you wish to include a view of your blog on another page of your site, for example your homepage, you need to insert the necessary codeblock in the source code of your page.
