

Manual:Template/Template package

A quality version of this page, approved on 8 July 2020, was based off this revision.

Below is a set of templates which you can import into your wiki.

Instructions

1. Download the package as zip file.
2. Unzip the archive.
3. Go to the special page `Special:Import` on your wiki (this page is only visible to users with admin rights).
 - Select the individual template file you want to upload or AllTemplates.xml to upload all templates.
 - Enter a Interwiki prefix. Since this field is required for the upload, you can simply enter en.
 - Select "Template" from the import to a namespace select menu.

The templates are now available in your wiki and can be added using the Insert > Template function of Visual Editor.

Subpages

- Subpage 1
- Subpage 2
- ...

Subpages: List all subpages of any wiki page

Note: This is a note.

Tip: This is a tip.

Example: This is an example.

Warning: This is a warning.

Important! This is important.

This is a box without label.

Box Note: Add an infobox to a page

Working with blogs

View recent page logs to blogs
View recent page logs to blogs

About the blog

Essentially, a blog is a list of comments, questions, or feedback from different users. The blog is often created chronologically, however, in the event of a public journal or blog, contributions can also come from contributors who have commented, recommended, listed with related articles or placed on a personal website.

The various BlueSpice/Blogging is part of BlueSpice/Forum. The communication modes of BlueSpice, in addition to the blog, have other types of social media articles, such as comment, discussion topic, attachment, or sharing.

Contributions from all these types can be consolidated and displayed chronologically with BlueSpice/Forum in a timeline and shared with other users.

The blog function is ready to use on the special page Special:Blog. This page is linked directly from the main navigation in every page with a toolbar. To you can start using the blog right away. It is also possible to include the blog functionality on any sub page. Let's get right to it.

Adding the blog to a page

If you want to include a new blog on another page of your site, for example your homepage, you need to insert the necessary codeblock in the source code of your page.

Transclusion

View recent page logs to blogs
View recent page logs to blogs

Transclusion

Essentially, a blog is a list of comments, questions, or feedback from different users. The blog is often created chronologically, however, in the event of a public journal or blog, contributions can also come from contributors who have commented, recommended, listed with related articles or placed on a personal website.

The various BlueSpice/Blogging is part of BlueSpice/Forum. The communication modes of BlueSpice, in addition to the blog, have other types of social media articles, such as comment, discussion topic, attachment, or sharing.

Contributions from all these types can be consolidated and displayed chronologically with BlueSpice/Forum in a timeline and shared with other users.

The blog function is ready to use on the special page Special:Blog. This page is linked directly from the main navigation in every page with a toolbar. To you can start using the blog right away. It is also possible to include the blog functionality on any sub page. Let's get right to it.

Transclusion: Transclude a page into a page

Vertically centered
The box content is centered vertically and the title has no margin.

Box with padding
This box container has some padding around the content.
Try out 2 or 3 lines as well.

Box without padding
This box container has no padding but there is padding around the text.
Try out 2 or 3 lines as well.

Box without image
A banner can be text-based as well. Just don't add an image.

Banner: Add a banner to a page

before

Wikis as Knowledge Base

Wikis and its sister projects are currently the most popular knowledge bases. Wikis are created to easily and collaboratively dynamically acquire or update knowledge. Different contributions are quickly linked to each other. As time goes by, they become more and more valuable as the connections become more and more complex.

Content Management

Content management (CM) is a set of processes and technologies that supports the collection, storage, and publishing of information in any form or medium. When stored and accessed via computers, this information may be more specifically referred to as digital content, or simply as content.

Right-aligned image

after

Wikis as Knowledge Base

Wikis and its sister projects are currently the most popular knowledge bases. Wikis are created to easily and collaboratively dynamically acquire or update knowledge. Different contributions are quickly linked to each other. As time goes by, they become more and more valuable as the connections become more and more complex.

Content Management

Content management (CM) is a set of processes and technologies that supports the collection, storage, and publishing of information in any form or medium. When stored and accessed via computers, this information may be more specifically referred to as digital content, or simply as content.

Right-aligned image

Clear: Clear the space around an image