Manual:Extension/BlueSpiceSocialArticleActions

A quality version of this page, approved on 16 July 2020, was based off this revision.

Each time a page is created or edited in the wiki, this action is automatically documented as a separate page in the SocialEntity namespace. Its purpose is to track all actions on a wiki page and communicate it in various change lists for users to comment on the changes.

Characteristics of SocialEntity pages

SocialEntity page related to content changes

(1) The page names in this namespace are generated as numbers.

(2) These pages are automatically placed on the watchlist of the editor. By default, a notification is sent when a comment is created on this page or when another change is made on this SocialEntity page. These notifications can be turned off in the Preferences on the Notifications tab (Actions on pages in watchlist).

(3) Other users have the option to comment on the original action. For example, if a user edited a page, another user could comment that the page now looks much better. Adding a comment to the SocialEntity page is sometimes better than adding a discussion topic directly on the edited page to avoid cluttering up the wiki page with casual social comments.

(4) The SocialEntity page has a link that leads to its associated content page.

User profile

The user profile pages lists the actions of the current user.

Contributions

The SocialEntity entries start with partentheses describing the type of change, e.g. (Article edit). Hovering over the link shows the numeric page name in the namespace SocialEntity.
