

Reference:BlueSpiceReaders

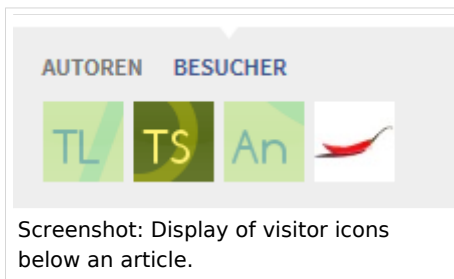

Readers lets you see which users already visited an article.

Technical background

Similar to the extension Authors, users are registered and displayed under an article with the help of small icons or pictures.

Functions

Display of readers

Every reader of an article will be registered and displayed under an article. Click on the "Readers" tab beside "Authors" to see them. You will either see the individual Avatar or a profile picture uploaded by the user.

Special page "Readers"

Administrators can access the special page `Special:Readers/Name_of_the_article` to get an overview of all visitors of a page.

On the special page you will see a list of all visitors of an article, along with the user name and the date of the last visit.

Settings

As Admin you can decide via the settings in `Special:Preferences` if and how many "visitors" of an article shall be displayed.

Permissions

Name	Description	Standard group
viewreaders	The user may see the readers of an article	bool

- The "Readers" bar is visible in view mode
- There is no bar on special pages
- If the user has no "read" permission, the bar will not show