What is Blog?

Blog extension allows displaying of relevant information in a "news-feed" style on a wiki page.

BlueSpice has a blog function which is useful to publish news to all wiki users.

Usage / Features

- Tag: Integrate the blog into any article pages (or main page) with a simple tag `<bs:blog />`.
- Text box: The tag creates a text box on the top for users with blog editing rights.
- Namespace: All blog articles will be automatically placed in an seperate namespace "Blog".
- Comments: The discussion page of each blog article is used for comments.
- Category filter: Articles from a particular category can be displayed in the blog by using the cat argument in the blog tag, for example `<blog cat="Wiki" />`.

Requirements

Blog requires BlueSpice Foundation.
