Archive:CheckUser

CheckUser enables you to check the IP address and other information of users. Users who are part of the "Checkuser" group can check the allocation of IP addresses and user names (and vice versa) without having to access the database. By the way: this is a feature also used by Wikipedia.

More information about CheckUser can be found here.