

2.3 Manual:Semantic MediaWiki/Examples/Customer data /Form

A quality version of this page, approved on 22 December 2020, was based off this revision.

With the page Special:CreateForm, we now create the data entry form.

Create a template

Creating the form

1	On the "Create a Customer data, v	a form" page, enter a name for your new form. Since we create it for template we give the form the same name (1). Select the template Customer data from the choice menu and	d click Add (2).
		Form name (the form is usually given the same name as its main template): Customer data 1 Add elements
		Add template: Customer data
		Select template

The customer data fields from the template Customer data are automatically integrated in the form. To facilitate the data entry for the date field, change the input type of the field firstcontact to datepicker. (1) Then, click Save page (2).

Now the form is available for data entry. It can be found in the namspace Form.

Using the form

BlueSpice

When we create a new customer page, we can now use the form page to create the page and to automatically include the customer data template in the page. The form page has the name Form: Customer data.

To create a customer page, enter a page name in the form field (1) and click Create or edit (2).

Note: You can customize the template style later. First, you should integrate the form with the customer pages.

Next step

As the next step, we add the form edit mode option to pages that include the Customer data template.

Edit pages in form edit mode
