Hello and welcome!

This short user manual will give you an overview of what you can do with your wiki (and how you can do it, of course...).

> Chapter 1 will show you
> - what a wiki is in general (including a really really short history lesson)
> - how to login to your wiki and configure your user preferences
> - the basic functions of the user interface, including the search function.

Just click on a link you're interested in, or use the book navigation (in the Books tab) on the left to get to the next page!
